YARD STORES--Saturday will be opened at the Oklahoma National Stock Yards. This will be the first New Year's day receipts and only this time because it falls on Saturday, ordinary a light day. Livestock arriving will be cared for the same as usual but there will be no trucking.

Hog markets are inactive because there are more buyers than sellers and the market prices are still high before the new crop is made. On this basis it would require an $8000-$8500 to get trade to pay high prices. Farmers high priced corn and hogs are poor because the market price is low.

CATTLE MARKET--Most of today's ton originated in Kansas being stock cows and heifers. There was a small supply of stock but hardly enough to satisfy demand. Farmers are still holding their cattle to get a good price.

SWINE MARKET--Most of today's ton originated in Kansas being stock swine and hogs. There was a small supply of stock but hardly enough to satisfy demand.
